

DR. ANDREAS ZIEGLER, EMDM, MSc, MBA

Dr. Andreas Ziegler was born in 1961 in Vienna and attended school in the same town. He graduated from Vienna Medical School in 1989 and was acknowledged as General Practitioner in 1993. A lifelong interest for emergency management expressed itself early, when he joined the local fire brigade and Red Cross EMS station in the 1970s. Today Dr. Ziegler is employed by the City of Vienna, where he works as Physician and Deputy Incident Commander in the Ambulance Service and fulfils responsible tasks in NBC-Defence and Education & Training. He is member of many Austrian workgroups on "Hazardous Materials", "Radiation Protection" and "Decontamination"; further of the WADEM CBRN Task Force and the WADEM Board of Directors. He is further a fully trained member of the EU Civil Protection Mechanism. Dr. Ziegler achieved several postgraduate degrees: in 2006 the EMDM (European Master of Disaster Medicine); in 2007 the MSc in Risk, Crisis and Disaster Management as well as an MBA degree.
